TOASTMINORS

COST: $190 + $30 REGISTRATION FEE

Given that public speaking is among one of the top fears in adults, Wind & Tide has created a one of a kind program designed just for children. Toastminors teaches students the art of public speaking by focusing on tools necessary to effectively communicate in front of an audience. Taught in a fun and nurturing environment, this 10-week adapted program teaches students how to create and deliver a variety of dynamic speeches, engage in verbal discourse and etiquette training. This unique program concludes with a special presentation event where students demonstrate their newly acquired speaking skills in front of an audience of family and friends. Whether it be for a child looking to overcome anxiety around public speaking, or for a child wanting to grow their communication skills, Toastminors will help students confidently master their own speaking style.
